TO FIGHT THE WHITEFLY PEST

To H. D. Atkinson of Thomas-ville, Ga., for $1,026.00 Prominent Crescent City Orange Grower Urges United Action.

The successful bidder was H. D. Atkinson, a contractor of Thomasville, Ga., whose bid of $1,026.00 per mile was accepted.

attention of the property owners to the following article by Prof. Rolfs in last week's Florida Agriculturist. In my opinion, if all will co-operate in removing chinaberry and umbrella trees, we may be able to do something to control the situation; but with these trees standing the spread of the whitefly will be so rapid any effort at control in the community will be hopeless, and all that can be done will be for each man to fight it on his own property the best he can. The general spread of whitefly in this community by decreasing crops, in-jury to trees, and smutting fruit would cut the value of the annual orange crop nearly 50 per cent., a loss affecting all business that Crescent City can ill afford to stand. "E. H. WILLIAMS."

The following is the article by which P. H. Rolfs, director of Florida Experiment station, to which Mr. Williams calls attention:

"There is no other species of tree or plant in Florida which is responsible for the propagation of so many billions of whitefly as the chinaberry. In the spring of the year the whitefly are drawn in-stinctively towards these trees and multiply there with astonishing rapidity. In fact, a medium-sized umbrella tree will be likely to hold all the way from ten millins to twenty millions of whitefly by the end of August, provided it stands in an infested district. In the fall, the inan intested district. In the last, the in-sects instinctively migrate away from the umbrella tree and millions of flying in-sects are thus turned loose to infest every nook and corner within a wide radius from the umbrella tree.

"Whether we should cut down our um-brella trees or let them stand is purely a question that must be weighed between sentiment and dollars. Dollars say em-distribution to some worthless and neg-lected chinaberry or umbrella tree. It therefore behooves us to join hands with lars of good cash every year.

"It should be remembered that out of the thousands of species of plants that grow in Florida, less than thirty species, both native and introduced, are known to be food-plants of the whitefly. It would be just as sensible to accuse a barbed wire fence or the globe of an incandescent light of breeding the white-fly as to accuse every bush on which a winged whitefly happens to rest. Fre-quently these little pests come to rest on the globes of incandescent lights in such numbers that they materially reduce the light that is given off, yet no one would accuse the incandescent light of being a breeder of whitefly. The frequent state-ment that our hammocks and bayheads are full of whitefly is founded on hearsny and not on direct observations. One of our most competent entomologists at one time offered five dollars reward to be shown a gallberry bush infested with the citrus whitefly, but no one was able to find the citrus whitefly breeding on a gallberry bush. This bush is very frequently accused of being a breeder of the whitefly, but the accusation is not founded On account hard road fund on fact.

"It is hoped that all of the railroads of the state will follow the splendid lead taken by the A. C. L. and the S. A. L., and cause to be destroyed all the chinaberry and umbrella trees on their rightof-way and their premises. These par-ticular umbrella and chinaberry trees are a special menace, from the fact that they are along the lines of transportation; and as they have already proven to be great In banks on checking account 2,373.15 disseminators of the whitefly, no amoun of sentiment should permit them to re main on railway property. It would be just as sensible to tolerate open aquaria, fountains, and other mosquito-breeding places in cities infested with yellow

"To those having a right to speak, a having knowledge in connection with the whitefly and its distribution in the state, it seems like a piece of foolhardi-ness to plant, or allow to continue to grow, either the chinaberry or the umbrella tree in any part of the state. It has already cost Florida hundreds of thousands of dollars, and if people persist in the "let-alone" policy it will continue to rob many a citrus grower of the brella trees or let them stand is purely a question that must be weighed between sentiment and dollars. Dollars say emphatically that the umbrella tree is a menace. This has been proven too many times to need to be reiterated. Tens of thousands of dollars have been spent by the state and federal governments to gather specific information on the whitefly question; and, without exception, those who have given the matter serious consideration have pronounced the chinaberry and umbrella trees an unmitigated nuisance in whitefly sections. The smaller and beautiful cities along the Seaboard railroad from Jacksonville to Pensacola have been for a number of years scourged with this pest. During July and August it is frequently impossible for women and children to enjoy the cool afternoons and evenings, so many billions of whitefly are present in the atmosphere. Ninety per cent. of these whitefly, and in many cases nearly a hundred per cent., are bred in the eloss of hundreds of thousands of dollars to citrus growers in Florida. Repeatedly the scientists have traced the source of distribution to some worthless and neglected chinaberry or umbrella tree. It therefore behooves us to join hands with the citrus grower and do all that we can lected chinaberry or umbrella tree. It therefore behooves us to join hands with the citrus grower and do all that we can to suppress or exterminate the umbrella and chinaberry trees. The citrus-growing industry, whose property is now worth over a hundred million dollars to our state, can well receive our co-operation and sympathy. Every citizen of the state should do all he can to improve the citrus growing into the state of from five to ten million dollars of good cash every year.

A Common Cold.

We claim that if catching cold could e avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture sed for germs of infectious diseases. Consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever, four of the most dan-gerous and fatal diseases, are of this Mass. The culture bed formed by the cold favors the development of the terms of these diseases, that would not therwise find lodgment. There is little danger, however, of any of these liseases being contracted when a good expectorant cough medicine like Chamerlain's Cough Remedy is used. It leans out these culture beds that favor the development of the germs of these diseases. That is why this remedy has proved so universally successful in preventing pneumonia.
